IMPORTANT PEACE INTERVIEWS HELD

Takahira and Cassini Talk With President—Conference May Not Be Held at Washington on Account of Hot Weather.

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Practically no new developments were observable today in the negotiations for peace between Russia and Japan. President Roosevelt for a day or two has been deeply engrossed in other matters and while he has not for a moment lost sight of the great work of bringing together the far eastern belligerents he has realized fully that the next move in the great game of diplomacy now being played was between the contending nations themselves. That move is the selection of the envoys to represent them at the Washington conference.

Called on President

Both Minister Takahira of Japan and Ambassador Cassini of Russia called on the president this afternoon. Shortly before [illegible] o'clock Minister Takahira drove to the White house and was received by the president in the blue room. He remained with the president for nearly half an hour but declined at the conclusion of the interview to discuss the nature of his conversation with him.

Soon afterward Ambassador Cassini drove to the executive residence and was received by the president in his private office. His call was brief. As he was leaving he said that the negotiations were moving freely. He added that he had not named the names of the Russian plenipotentiaries to the president and had not received from him the names of the Japanese plenipotentiaries.

While the same reserve that has hitherto characterized the personal exchanges which have taken place were manifested about the interviews it is known that they were not of great importance. Each of the diplomatists presented to the president official advices from his government expressive of the satisfaction felt at both St. Petersburg and Tokio over the selection of Washington as the seat of the peace conference. The president had already been advised by Ambassador Meyer at St. Petersburg and Minister Griscom at Tokio of the cordial feeling toward Washington by the Russian and Japanese governments. The personal assurances of that feeling conveyed to him by the representatives of both powers served simply to accentuate the official advices received from his government's officials.

Whether the conference will actually sit in Washington or not has not been determined. Of course this is a detail which will be left to the envoys themselves by their respective governments. It is said that no decision will be reached on that point until the envoys meet here and organize. If the weather in Washington at that time should be too hot to continue sittings in this city it will be within the authority of the plenipotentiaries to adjourn to some other city. That decision will be reached necessarily by the envoys themselves as it is a detail which relates exclusively to their own personal comfort and convenience.

Many Places Suggested

During the past few days the president has received as many as a hundred letters suggesting various [illegible] in the country as desirable places for holding the conference. It can be said that the president will not permit himself to be drawn into the discussion of this subject and the government will not attempt to interfere in any way with the choice of the conferees of a place of holding their conferences.

WAR PARTY ATTEMPTING TO DISSUADE CZAR FROM PEACE

ST. PETERSBURG, June 19.—Midnight.—The war party has by no means surrendered. On the contrary, backed by the military element, it is making a concerted effort to dissuade the emperor from concluding peace. Even with the two armies already clinching, members of the war party are filling St. Petersburg and Peterhof with optimistic views and Lieut. General Linevitch and his lieutenants are reinforcing their arguments with flowery reports of the strategic situation.

Many Russian correspondents at the front, evidently inspired from St. Petersburg, are flooding their papers with dispatches in the same strain.

The Novoe Vremya's correspondent, in his zeal against the conclusion of a humiliating peace, points to the hazards of the government in disbanding an army of a half million without giving them a taste of success and expresses the fear of dangerous consequences. The same correspondent, however, chronicles the fact that the rank and file are indifferent and concludes:

If peace can be obtained without the cession of Russian territory or blood money, then peace by all means.

JOHN F. WALLACE MAY RESIGN POST

BELIEVED THAT HE WILL NOT RETURN TO ISTHMUS AS CHIEF ENGINEER OF CANAL ZONE

WASHINGTON, June 19.—It was publicly announced that John F. Wallace, chief engineer of the canal zone, who sailed for the United States June 8, was going home by order of Secretary Taft for the purpose of a consultation on important matters prior to the sailing of the secretary for the Philippines and that he was not likely to return to the isthmus until his annual report had been written and he had secured a short rest.

Since the departure of Mr. Wallace, however, it has been said in influential circles that he does not intend to return to the isthmus to resume his position as chief engineer but that he has gone home to confer with Secretary Taft on the subject of his resignation.

Shortly before he sailed Mr. Wallace was the recipient of a memorial from the heads of departments on behalf of the canal employes expressing appreciation of the benefits resulting from the new schedule of hours and wages and from the betterment of the general welfare of all connected with the work on the canal.

STORTHING MAKES REPLY TO KING

ADHERES TO ACTION CONCERNING DISSOLUTION OF UNION BUT EXPRESSES FRIENDLY FEELING

CHRISTIANIA, June 19.—The storthing today adopted a reply to the long letter which King Oscar sent on June 7 to M. Berner, its president, in the form of an address to the king and the Swedish people. The reply, while expressing the utmost good will, adheres to the action taken by the storthing in dissolving the union. The text of this reply will be published tomorrow.

A great meeting of representatives of Swedish residents of Norway was held today. It adopted an impressive address to King Oscar requesting him to use every influence to secure a peaceful settlement with the view of maintaining the friendly relations of all Scandinavian people. The address points out that Swedes residing in Norway enjoy the best treatment at the hands of the Norwegian people, and says that the vast interstate interests involved demand an amicable adjustment of the differences between the two countries.

It is believed here that an extraordinary session of the riksdag to be held next Wednesday will take action looking to the prevention of further rupture.

PATTERSON VS. CARDINAL PRINCIPLES OF DEMOCRACY

(From the Denver Post.)

Mr. Bryan, the Democratic patriot, in his platform says: "President Roosevelt should be congratulated by Democracy upon his determination to build the Panama canal."

He says: "Railroad passes should be abolished by law."

He says: "Trusts are threatening our national existence and must be suppressed."

He says: "Corporations must stop their tax dodging and pay their just share of the taxes as the ordinary citizen is forced to do."

These are the cardinal principles of Democracy according to Mr. Bryan, the great Democratic patriot. This is what Patterson, the hypocrite, [illegible] does:

He [illegible] against the Pa[illegible] [illegible] he rides on railroad passes all over the [illegible] and [illegible] charges the United States government [illegible] the Patterson [illegible] and the M[illegible] the [illegible] Colorado [illegible] he [illegible] many thousand [illegible] cent of which is extorted from the people by the most brutal [illegible] methods. And [illegible] for [illegible] he paid [illegible] for the Times three [illegible] ago. His [illegible] to the [illegible] than any other [illegible]. He [illegible] agents [illegible] to the value of [illegible] com[illegible].

[illegible] Democrat in Denver [illegible] has the [illegible] courage [illegible] him question Mr. Patterson on these points and then [illegible] Democrats ask yourselves if you can hope to win under the leadership of such a hypocrite and swindler as Patterson proves himself to be by the above facts.

DEMOCRATS CANNOT AGREE ON QUESTION OF STATE PLATFORM

Patterson-Adams Crowd Rebuked by State Central Committee—Ring Leaders "Adopt" Plank Concerning Municipal Ownership Which Party Will Not Stand For—Address to the People.

DENVER, June 19.—A joint conference of members of the Democratic state central committee and Democratic leaders not directly connected with the state organization as committeemen met here today in pursuance of a call issued some weeks ago by United States Senator Teller and [illegible] Patterson, former Governor Adams and Charles S. Thomas and the other leading party men for the purpose of putting an expression of opinion on the issues of the day as affecting the state of Colorado. On entering the conference the members of the state committee announced that they did so only as individuals.

The conference instructed a committee headed by Senator Patterson to prepare an address to the people of Colorado. This was done and the conference later heard it read and indorsed it as a platform of principles for the Colorado Democracy.

The Address.

This address, after referring to the conspiracy which resulted in the unseating of Alva Adams from the governorship and installing a man who never had been nominated for the place and for whom a single vote had not been cast, warns the people that the corporations have deliberately determined to rule the state regardless of what the majority of legal voters may decide.

Continuing, the address says:

Question of Corporations

The corporations cannot be met upon mere negative issues. They have specific practical ends to gain for the advancement of their own wealth and power and station. The Democracy, if it would prevail against them, must stand faithfully and fearlessly for measures that will advance the wealth, the power and the station of the people. The time for mere pretense has gone by. The Democracy cannot serve the corporations and the people. If the corporations are content to prosper with the people, to enjoy equality with them under the law, to live within the law and to attend to the business for which the state created them, and will not insist upon running the government to the exclusion in whole or in part of the people, then the Democracy in serving the people will serve the corporations as well, to the full extent of legitimate growth and prosperity.

In Sympathy With Roosevelt.

As citizens of a common country and as Democrats of Colorado, we are in hearty sympathy with President Roosevelt in his efforts to have enacted a law conferring rate regulating power upon the interstate commerce commission and we approve the [illegible] principles of the proposed law as they were expounded by him in his Denver banquet speech a few weeks ago, and we urge our senators and representatives in congress to [illegible] the president in his efforts [illegible] law.

If [illegible] railway [illegible] rates [illegible] between [illegible] country at large [illegible] the railway [illegible] then such a law is equally [illegible] in the state to deal with rates and other transportation [illegible] under the constitution are local to the state.

A Railway Commission

We hold that [illegible] state [illegible] and we favor [illegible] by the legislature [illegible] lishing a railway commission [illegible] power to regulate freight [illegible] ger rates [illegible] We [illegible] est of fair dealing between them and the public.

We stand [illegible] of all public [illegible] this is a question [illegible] city is given [illegible] of the past few years [illegible] Denver Tramway [illegible] Denver Water [illegible] leaders [illegible] majority [illegible] into a Republican majority [illegible] the theft of the government [illegible] criminal proceedings [illegible] them to [illegible] of legislation and all other public affairs. These and other utility corporations have been constantly engaged in corrupting elections and controlling conventions and [illegible] unwholesome influence in state as well as local affairs.

Corrupting Elements

[illegible] common knowledge of the [illegible] corporation [illegible] control [illegible] politics and [illegible] of the state [illegible] are concerned [illegible] law for the [illegible] of our cities [illegible] is also [illegible] better serve [illegible] transportation [illegible] can be [illegible] ownership. And [illegible] great reform at the earliest practical time.

Primary Election Law

[illegible] law [illegible] expression [illegible] the [illegible] over [illegible] loss and [illegible] candidates [illegible] people themselves [illegible] do [illegible] our power to secure it.

The eight-hour law enacted by the last legislature is a fraud and was framed under the direction of the corporations to defeat the substantial purposes of the constitutional amendment. Therefore we declare for such an eight-hour law as is provided for in the state constitution and that the people approved by more than 50,000 majority.

Peabody Criticised

The administration of Governor Peabody was marked by such plain abuses of the most cherished provisions of the constitution which seemed to receive the [illegible] of the courts that we believe it necessary that amendments to the constitution be adopted that will prohibit the suspension of the writ of habeas corpus unless when in case of rebellion or invasion the public safety may require it and then only by a general assembly or by the governor when authorized by the general assembly in regular or special

SWEDISH PAPERS ADVOCATE WAR

LONDON, JUNE 20.—THE CORRESPONDENT OF THE STANDARD AT STOCKHOLM SAYS THE SWEDISH CONSERVATIVE PAPERS NOW OPENLY ADVOCATE WAR. THEY URGE MOBILIZATION [illegible] THE TROOPS AND DEMAND THE CESSION OF NORTHERN NORWAY AS COMPENSATION TO THE SWEDISH PEOPLE FOR THE DISSOLUTION OF THE UNION.

DISGRACEFUL WAR INCIDENT

LONDON, June 20.—The Tokio correspondent of the Daily Telegraph, describing a Cossack attack on a Japanese field hospital which occurred during an attack on a Japanese convoy at Taipingshan May 20 as the most disgraceful incident of the war, says:

Despite the prominent display of Red Cross badges the Cossacks fired volleys at close quarters and then charged with drawn swords, with the result that many non-combatants were killed or wounded. Some of the Russians dismounted and used their bayonets. The steel was thrust down the mouths of the Japanese and their heads were nearly cut off and their bodies dismembered. Finally the Cossacks burned and otherwise destroyed all medicines and medical appliances.

ADOPT RESOLUTION AGAINST MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP

CHICAGO, June 19.—The Civic Federation of Chicago today adopted a special report made by the executive committee advising against municipal ownership. The report commits the organization against either operation or ownership of public utilities by the city, the reason given being that the city's operation of Chicago's water works system has not been successful enough to warrant a belief that the city could successfully operate a street car system or other public utilities.

400,000 ITALIANS SIGN ANTI-WAR PETITION

ROME, June 19.—The chamber of deputies today discussed a petition bearing 400,000 signatures for a movement on the part of the Italian government to intervene for the cessation of the Russo-Japanese war. In the [illegible] debate [illegible] action taken by President Roosevelt in [illegible] towards mediation [illegible] assured the chamber that the government had [illegible] striven to secure the desired end.

International Conference on Moroccan Question Decided Upon.

SITUATION CHANGED

FEELING BETWEEN FRANCE AND GERMANY LESS HOSTILE. DETAILS OF ASSEMBLY BEING ARRANGED.

PARIS, June 19.—An international conference on the affairs of Morocco is now practically assured as the result of the conversations between Premier Rouvier of France and Prince Radolin, the German ambassador, [illegible] now [illegible] officials expect to be able to announce the plans for the conference in the course of four or five days.

This result, after the severe strain which tested the diplomatic resources of both governments, has the effect of relieving the tension, the officials of the foreign office and the diplomats of the German embassy agreeing that an amicable adjustment is near at hand.

Although the acceptance of the conference gives a certain measure of success to German diplomacy, yet M. Rouvier emerges from the controversy with the advantage of having brought Germany to exactly define the scope of the conference and so to rid it of the objection of being a menace to French interests.

EQUITABLE AFFAIRS TO BE INVESTIGATED

Paul Morton, Chairman of Board of Directors, Authorizes Accountants to Probe Every Detail—No Limit to Scope of Inquiry.

NEW YORK, June 19.—A new and important investigation of the affairs of the Equitable Life Assurance society is to be begun at once. Paul Morton, the newly elected chairman of the board of directors, wants to know exactly how things are with the society and has commissioned Price, Waterhouse & Co. and Haskins and Sells, chartered accountants, working together, to examine every detail of the work, investments and relations of the society.

Morton's Letter

The letter sent by Mr. Morton to the firms employed is as follows:

"Dear Sirs: As chairman of the board of the Equitable Life Assurance society I want to know the exact condition of the society on June 10, 1905, the date of my election as chairman. With that end in view you will please make jointly an examination of the accounts of the society. You will have access to all books, papers and records.

"I desire that your report should be as complete and exhaustive as possible. Particular attention should be paid to ascertaining the facts upon these subjects:

"1. The society's annual expenses, including legal expenses, advertising expenses, agency expenses and cost of securing business.

"2. The real estate investments of the company, including in the case of each particular parcel the value at which it is carried upon the books, the income which it yields and the fair valuation of the property, whether above or below the value at which it is carried upon the books of the society.

"3. The other investments of the society, their character and the circumstance under which they have been made.

"4. The society's surplus and the manner in which it is carried upon the books of the society.

"5. The methods of keeping the society's accounts and the respects in which its accounting may be improved.

"6. The relations between the society and the trust companies, banks, safe deposit companies and other institutions with which the society is affiliated by ownership of considerable amounts of stock or otherwise.

"7. The subjects covered by the report of the investigating committee of which Mr. Frick was chairman should be fully investigated.

"8.—When the report of the New York superintendent of insurance is made that report should be carefully studied and every matter covered by it or by the recommendations of the commissioner should be carefully examined.

Scope Not Limited

"The foregoing suggestions are not intended to limit the scope of your inquiries, which should be as broad as may be necessary in order to ascertain the precise condition of the affairs of the society. I shall from time to time designate other subjects which seem to call for special investigation.

"It is important for all concerned that your investigation should be completed as promptly as possible and you will accordingly inaugurate it at once and carry it forward with all possible vigor."

NOTED REFORMER PREDICTS NEW AGE OF WORLD POLITICS

Dr. Wilbur H. Crafts Says Calling of Second Hague Conference Will Be First Step Towards Adoption of Uniform Laws for All Nations.

"We are entering a new age of world politics. We are on the eve of adding a new institution, an international parliament to codify the laws of the nations of the world and to draw up and cause to be adopted a new and uniform set of laws for the world. When President Roosevelt calls the second Hague conference, he will call what will prove to be the first of a series of these parliaments which will open this great field in international religion and international politics."

Dr. Wilbur F. Crafts, superintendent of the National Reform bureau of Washington, a man whose work in reform movements has given him an international reputation, last night under the auspices of the City C. E. union addressed an audience which filled the auditorium of the First M. E. church. His subject was "That Boy and Girl of Yours."

Dr. Crafts, who was introduced by the Rev. Dr. C. B. Wilcox, pastor of the First M. E. church, spoke first of the purposes and the work of the National Reform association. He told of its three crusades: to protect the uncivilized nations of the world against the liquor traffic, to protect the child races under our own flag, and to deliver China from British opium. He spoke of the corruption in American cities and referred to Mayor John Weaver of Philadelphia as "The Folk of Pennsylvania."

World's New Era.

"We are entering a new age of world politics," he continued. "We are on the point of adding a new institution, an international parliament to codify the laws of the nations of the world and to draw up and cause to be adopted a new and uniform set of laws for the world. When President Roosevelt calls the second Hague conference he will call what will prove to be the first of a series of these parliaments which will open this great field in international religion and international politics."

Passing on to his lecture Dr. Crafts said:

"The question of the family underlies every question of church and state. Love of God and love of man form the basis of right living. Get right with God, that is the first and great commandment. I believe in no reform which does not begin with prayer. But is the supreme heresy to believe that if a man is right with God he will be right with his fellow men. It is a manifold work. There is no single reform which will right all wrongs.

No [illegible]

"Speaking of the family," Dr. Crafts said, "I believe in families with more than one child. Not because we need more people, but because we need better people, not to populate the world, but to teach people how to live together. The home is the best of all [illegible]. It is the school of theology, of [illegible] of law and of love.

"Instead of the two branches of education, the school and the college, there are many other branches of education. The first of these is the school of the street. When will we learn that the streets should be arranged with reference to the children? Street [illegible] should all be subjected to the interests of the children. There should be no kindling of the passions through liquors in saloon, drug store or club. You in Colorado Springs have no saloons, but you should make it as hard as possible for a young man to drink, and as easy as possible for him not to drink.

Shot at [illegible]

"Then there is the school of the newspaper. When you insist that newspapers say nothing in print that the editor would not say to your boy or girl then these papers will be fit for your homes.

"Next comes the school of the theater. There are a few clean players and a few clean plays but you can count them on your fingers. There is not one thing your mayor can do of so much importance as to correct the evil shows. His power in this matter is as absolute as that of the czar and he has no grand dukes to advise him. This is one of the absolute powers of the mayor.

"Last comes the home as the mightiest school of all. It is the school of theology which teaches the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man. The teaching of the child to obey the law is one of its most important duties. Obedience to law is the first duty. Teach the eye to observe, the heart to love and the will to obey."

LINEVITCH REPORTS MINOR ENGAGEMENTS TO EMPEROR

ST. PETERSBURG, June 19.—General Linevitch, under date of June 18, telegraphed to the emperor as follows:

"From [illegible] a. m. till [illegible] a. m. June 18 our force engaged in the neighborhood of Liaoyang Wopeng a Japanese force consisting of [illegible] infantry and [illegible] batteries of artillery [illegible] from the south about five miles of Liaoyang Wopeng. Our detachment [illegible] checked the offensive movement and the Japanese retired.

"At about [illegible] a. m. a turning movement on the left flank executed by a battalion of Japanese infantry and three squadrons of cavalry was also reported [illegible] right flank was turned by a regiment of infantry, several squadrons of cavalry and some artillery. The commander of our detachment consequently was forced to evacuate Liaoyang Wopeng and a Japanese force entered Liaoyang Wopeng with a division of infantry, thirty squadrons of cavalry and four batteries of artillery. Three Japanese squadrons occupied Siminchen but our detachment forced them to evacuate the place.

"At dawn today a company of Japanese infantry resumed the offensive eastward of the railway but [illegible] dislodged by a detachment of [illegible].

"According to [illegible] the enemy is advancing in the direction of Kongchen and Mukden."

designed to interrupt the present territorial or political status quo of Morocco. This appears to have been one of Germany's chief apprehensions as any change in Morocco status quo might involve an ultimate French protectorate similar to that over Tunis.

Commercial Rights.

With both governments favorable to the sovereignty of Morocco and to her territorial and political status quo it remains for the conference to adjust the equality of commercial rights as Germany desires this assurance from an international conference instead of through the operations of the Anglo-French agreement. Therefore the conference is not likely to consider changes in the present status of Morocco but rather international reforms and commercial privileges.

Troops Ready for War

A dispatch from Metz to the Temps says that the sixteenth German army corps is showing less activity than the twentieth and Sixth French army corps, as the sixteenth German army corps has been continuously on a war footing and is prepared for immediate mobilization. The dispatch says that the inspection of the troops has been active on both sides. However this activity has been less marked recently as all eyes have ben turned toward Paris in the expectation of a favorable result of the diplomatic negotiations.

"CUTICURA REMEDIES SAVED HER LIFE"

"When my little girl was six months old she had eczema. We had used cold creams and all kinds of remedies but nothing did her any good. In fact she kept getting worse. I used to wrap her hands up and when I would dress her I had to put her on the table for I could not hold her. She would kick and scream and when she could she would tear her face and arms almost to pieces. I used four boxes of Cuticura Ointment, two cakes of Cuticura Soap, and gave her one Cuticura Resolvent and she was cured, and I see no traces of the humour left. I can truthfully say that they have saved her life and I should advise any one suffering as she did to give Cuticura a fair trial. Mrs. G. A. Conrad, Lisbon, N. H., Feb. 7, 1898."

The playing will begin today, the members playing their off matches at their own convenience. There are no prizes to be contested for. The tournament for the Dodge cup will be held in September. This trophy has been won by F. A. Bissell and W. W. Wiswall in previous years and must be won three times for permanent possession.

At a meeting of the board of directors yesterday noon, Daniel L. Hoffer, assistant physical director, was invited to accept the position of physical director in case J. George Hoffer definitely decides to take up work at the Chicago Central Y. M. C. A. this fall. J. G. Hoffer will return from the east about July 1, D. L. Hoffer leaving immediately after that for Lake Geneva and a month's absence in the east.

Active work in the outdoor gymnasium will begin tonight.

The senior baseball team will organize and elect a captain tomorrow night. The team has some excellent material and will probably make one of the strongest amateur teams in the city this summer. They plan to play their first game with the Elks next Saturday.

session that will provide that the military shall never suspend the operation of the civil courts in the administration of justice and that military prisoners shall at all times be subject to the jurisdiction of the civil courts.

The spread of the trusts should be met with laws that will place them under the control and supervision of the courts and legislature and such criminal laws and civil regulations be enacted as may be necessary to fully secure that end.

Preaching Economy

We also pledge the people that should the Democratic party be intrusted with the state administration the utmost economy will be practiced in dealing with the people's money; that no claim against the state, military or other, will be allowed without the closest scrutiny and satisfactory proof that it is an honest debt.

Announcing our belief that the amendments and measures above enumerated should become the law of the state, we pledge the people to do everything in our power to secure their approval by all future Democratic conventions, both state and district and county, and to permit the nomination only of those who will pledge themselves, if elected, to use every possible honorable means to make them living realities.

Knowing that in declaring for these measures and principles the Democratic party cannot and should not receive financial assistance from those who combat our views, we confidently appeal to the people for support and pledge them in return to stand faithfully by all that is herein declared for."

Subsequently the state central committee adopted a resolution to the effect that the time was not yet ripe for municipal ownership of public utilities and that any way it was a question to be handled politically by city and county organization.

This is construed by many as a rebuke to those Democrats who are agitating municipal ownership in Denver.

BANQUET ATTENDED BY 300 DEMOCRATS

DENVER, June 19.—A banquet to the Democratic conference was held at the Savoy hotel tonight and was attended by more than 300 Democrats from all sections of the state. Samuel Belford of Denver acted as toastmaster. The program of toasts was as follows:

"Democracy's Duty to the People," by Senator Henry M. Teller.

"A Party to Govern the People Must Govern Itself," Harry L. Lubeers, of Las Animas.

"Pietro and Ah Sin," ex-Governor Charles S. Thomas.

"Citizenship and Democracy," ex-Governor Alva Adams.

"The Democratic Party, What It Should Stand For," Senator Thomas M. Patterson.

Although not on the program State Chairman Milton Smith and Thomas O'Donnell also spoke.

Patterson Spoke.

Senator Patterson's address was the principal one. It was based upon the address to the people issued by the conference and unmincingly charged the corporations of the state with fathering the "conspiracy" to unseat Alva Adams and also with a further plan to controlling both political parties so as to dictate candidates and ultimately manage the affairs of the state. Senator Patterson was warmly applauded throughout his speech. In alluding to the absence of certain local leaders he said he hoped that it was because of other engagements and not opposition to the purpose for which the conference was called.

The fear expressed by some that the action of the conference in adopting the address to the people would cause them to lose the support of persons interested in corporations, the senator assured his auditors was magnified. He cited the wonderful majority received by President Roosevelt as evidence of the strength of popularity in elections and declared that had the campaign funds of both the Republican and Democratic national committees been at the disposal of the Democratic national committee during the recent campaign, President Roosevelt would have been elected just the same. A principle or set of principles could be made as popular when they served the interests of the people as a whole as a person, he asserted.

There is just one thing choicer for a wedding present than cut glass---a piece of Van Briggle pottery. A new kiln just out---$[illegible] to $25.[illegible]

Foltz & Hardy,
[illegible]6 So. Tejon St.

VAN BRIGGLE DISPLAY

The exhibit of Van Briggle Pottery from the new kiln will be continued all this week at Foltz & Hardy's.

The sale has been unusually successful, more than a dozen and a half pieces having been sold on Saturday and Monday. The collection comprised one hundred of the choicest pieces from the new firing. A few more vases are being added to take the place of those sold.

The lot contained some two dozen pieces in the Turquoise Blue finish, that has proved so popular of late. Nearly half these have gone in two days and most of the others will no doubt be sold during the week.

One of the advantages of Van Briggle Pottery as compared with other art wares is its utility for the display of flowers.

A Van Briggle vase makes a more artistic setting or background for this purpose than the more ornate art piece.

As leaves are to a flower, so is a rich plain vase to a bouquet of flowers.

The prices now on Van Briggle ware are just about half what they were a year ago. It is now the best value of any of the fine art ware.

The present display at the Foltz-Hardy store was arranged with a view to providing choice gifts for June weddings.

The prices range from $1.00 to $25.00 per vase.

AUTOMOBILE ORDINANCES PASSED BY CITY COUNCIL

At the regular meeting of the city council last evening Alderman R. J. Verner introduced a [illegible] franchise ordinance and Alderman Hill introduced an ordinance [illegible] sidewalk outside the fire limits.

The automobile ordinance placing the speed limit at [illegible] miles an hour within the fire limits and 15 miles an hour outside was passed by a vote of six to two.

The street railway franchise which was introduced by Alderman Verner was made the special order of business at an adjourned session of the council tomorrow evening.

Alderman Verner introduced a wide-tire ordinance requiring all vehicles weighing 1,000 pounds or over to have four-inch tires, but it stipulates that the ordinance shall not apply to vehicles having rubber tires or to vehicles coming into the city from a distance of 10 miles or more. It carries a penalty of $10 to $100 fines, but allows expressmen and others securing licenses from the city to receive a rebate of two-thirds of the license fee to offset the additional expense they will be placed to in changing their tires. The ordinance was referred to the ordinance committee.

An ordinance concerning sidewalks was introduced by Alderman Hill and read for the first time. It provides:

All sidewalks without the fire limits of the city of Colorado Springs shall extend from the property line to a distance of one fourth of the street between the property lines thereof, except that this section shall not apply to the following named streets and avenues and parts of streets and avenues, to-wit: Tejon street, Colorado avenue, that part of Cascade avenue north of Huerfano street and that part of Pikes Peak avenue between Cascade avenue and El Paso street.

All artificial or natural stone walks or cement walks placed in any sidewalk shall be of the following named widths and placed in the following named positions, to-wit: On all streets and avenues 140 feet wide the said walk shall be at least six feet wide and the inner line thereof shall be placed four feet from the property line; on all streets and avenues from 50 to 100 feet wide the sidewalk shall be six feet wide and the inner line thereof shall be placed two feet from the property line; on all streets and avenues less than 50 feet wide the width and position of the said walk shall be as prescribed and directed by the city engineer.

The proposed franchise to the street railway company was introduced by Alderman Verner and read. It grants the company right of way on Costilla street from Tejon street to El Paso street, thence south to Cimarron, east to Hancock and south to the city limits. It allows the company 30 months in which to complete the line and requires a bond of $10,000 from the company to indemnify the city. On motion of Alderman Tucker the franchise went over until Wednesday evening when it will be taken up as a special order of the evening. The city engineer was requested to check up the frontage represented by the petitions filed with the council and report to the council Wednesday evening.

The automobile ordinance, which was introduced in the council two weeks ago, was then taken up and placed upon its passage. A communication from Attorney George W. Musser was read protesting against allowing any increase in speed to automobiles. Alderman Hosman desired the council to postpone action upon the ordinance until the suit of the city against E. W. Genter had been finally settled as there was no assurance that if the new ordinance be passed that it would not be contested the same as Genter is contesting the present ordinance. Alderman McCaffery wanted the speed limits reduced to read eight miles an hour within the fire limits and 15 miles in the residence section, instead of 12 and 15 miles respectively, as it stands in the proposed ordinance. His amendment was voted down, Aldermen McCaffery, Schlomridge and Hosman voting in favor of the amendment and the remainder of the council voting against it. The ordinance as it stood was then passed with Aldermen Hosman and Holden voting against it.

Rountine Business

Mayor Hall announced that he had appointed William Shellenburger [illegible] a member of the fire department [illegible] the services of all city schools to be [illegible] special policemen without pay. The appointments were confirmed.

In a communication to the council George B. Tripp on behalf of the local committee of the National Electrical association thanked the council for its contribution toward the entertainment of the visitors.

The petition of property owners on East Vermijo street asking that the street between Tejon street and [illegible] avenue be so repaired that the flow of water would not drain upon the property was referred to the street committee.

[illegible] asked to be appointed assistant food inspector. Harry [illegible] applied to be assistant market master and John W. Murray petitioned to be appointed assistant food inspector. All of the applications were referred to the health committee.

The council voted to accept the invitation to attend the luncheon to the real estate men at the Antlers this afternoon.

A petition from Peter Schmitt to remove an illuminated sign from the corner of Exchange alley and Tejon street to the corner of Carpenters alley and Pikes Peak avenue was referred to the street committee with power to act.

The official bonds of Dr. [illegible] as health commissioner and of S. Duff as janitor of the city hall were accepted subject to the approval of the city attorney as to form.

Bills totaling $11,160.17 were read and allowed.

The ordinance calling a special election to vote upon the refunding bonds to the amount of $340,000 was then placed upon its passage and passed the house without a dissenting vote.

Alderman Verner was unanimously elected to be the council's representative upon the automobile examining board under the new auto ordinance.

At 11:30 o'clock p. m. the council went into executive session upon water [illegible] and [illegible] minutes later it convened in regular session and adjourned until Wednesday evening.

IOWA FORMER IOWA CLUB THURSDAY

FORMER RESIDENTS OF HAWKEYE STATE TO EFFECT ORGANIZATION AND PLAN FIRST REUNION.

Thursday evening at [illegible] o'clock the first meeting of the Iowa society will be held in Carpenters hall of the old court house building, Kiowa and Nevada streets. Permanent organization will be effected by the election of officers and the appointment of committees.

The time for the first annual reunion will be discussed and some day in August will probably be selected. The society desires to agree on this date as far in advance as possible in order that it may be well advertised in Iowa. All Iowa people who are visiting in Colorado at that time will be urged to attend.

Membership in the society is limited to people who were born in Iowa or who have at some time [illegible] claimed Iowa as their home. Husbands and wives of Iowans are entitled to honorary membership. Persons eligible to membership who have not yet handed their names to A. F. Waterman, temporary secretary, are invited to attend this first meeting and get in on the ground floor of a good thing. No cost attaches to membership. The only penalty will be attendance at the annual picnic.

FOR LUNCHEON. Members of the State Realty association can obtain tickets to the luncheon today by applying at headquarters at the Antlers.

WOMEN WHO CHARM

HEALTH IS THE FIRST ESSENTIAL

It Helps Women to Win and Hold Men's Admiration, Respect and Love

Woman's greatest gift is the power to inspire admiration, respect, and love. There is a beauty in health which is more attractive to men than mere regularity of feature.

Mrs Chas F Brown

To be a successful wife, to retain the love and admiration of her husband, should be a woman's constant study. At the first indication of ill health, painful or irregular menstruation, headache or backache, secure Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and begin its use.

Mrs. Chas. F. Brown, Vice President Mothers' Club, 21 Cedar Terrace, Hot Springs, Ark., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham: –

For nine years I dragged through a miserable existence, suffering with inflammation and falling of the womb, and worn out with pain and weariness. I one day noticed a statement by a woman suffering as I was, but who had been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I determined to try it. At the end of three months I was a different woman. Every one remarked about it and my husband fell in love with me all over again. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound built up my entire system, cured the womb trouble, and I felt like a new woman. I am sure it will make every suffering women strong, well and happy, as it has me."

Women who are troubled with painful or irregular menstruation, backache, bloating (or flatulence), leucorrhoea, falling, inflammation or ulceration of the uterus, ovarian troubles, that "bearing-down" feeling, dizziness, faintness, indigestion, or nervous prostration may be restored to perfect health and strength by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Asthma Sufferers Should Know This

Foley's Honey and Tar has cured many cases of asthma that were considered hopeless. Mrs. Adolph Buesing, 701 West Third street, Davenport, Iowa, writes: "A severe cold contracted twelve years ago was neglected until it finally grew into asthma. The best medical skill available could not give me more than temporary relief. Foley's Honey and Tar was recommended and one fifty-cent bottle entirely cured me of asthma, which had been growing on me for twelve years, and if I had taken it at the start I would have been saved years of suffering." THE BAND CONCERTS.

THE size of the crowd which attended the first public band concert of the season in North Park last night attests the popularity of these attractions. As the summer advances and the tourists arrive the attendance will increase, and wherever the band is there will be the crowds.

The Midland band is one of the best organizations of its kind in the West, and its public concerts have been a prominent factor in popularizing Colorado Springs as a summer resort. The people who come here want to be amused, they can not be expected to put in their entire time viewing scenery, even though it is the finest in the country. Popular diversion must be provided for them, especially in the evenings, and experience has shown that nothing attracts the people so well as a public band concert. For this reason the money spent by the city for concerts in the parks is an excellent investment.

But it is not well to do things in a half-way manner. The city pays for the up-town concerts, but so far it has failed to provide proper accommodations for the crowds that attend them. The number of benches in North Park is wholly inadequate. Of course it would be impossible to furnish seats for everybody; the park could be filled full of benches and still a good many people would have to stand up. But the city should provide at least twice as many benches as are there now. They would be useful not only for the concerts but for the accommodation of those who frequent the park at other times.

MR. DONALDSON'S RETIREMENT.

THE announcement by Mr. D. V. Donaldson that he will retire from the presidency of the Mining Stock Exchange on July 1 has been received with regret by the many people who have observed his careful and businesslike administration of its affairs. It is a business of no small magnitude, requiring a great deal of time and close attention, which necessarily must be given at a sacrifice of personal interests.

A few years ago the Mining Exchange absorbed the interest of most of the people of Colorado Springs, as well as that of thousands of Eastern investors. Trading was active at all times, and the Exchange was such a dominating factor in the business life of the city that there were plenty of people who predicted that if the market ever went to smash the town would go with it. Then came the slump, so severe that for a time the stock business was paralyzed, though general business conditions in the city were but slightly affected. The recovery has been slow, very slow, but it has been sure, and while trading has not yet reached the activity of four years ago, conditions have improved until a fairly satisfactory condition has been reached.

This is shown by a comparison of the figures for last year with those of the first five months of the present year. In 1904 a total of 17,783,592 shares were sold, having a cash value of $1,399,950. In the first five months of 1905 the figures were as follows: Number of shares sold, 24,126,558; cash value, $2,290,330. If this rate is sustained throughout the year the value of the stocks traded in during the current twelve months will be about four times that of last year.

The restoration of this improved condition is largely due to the careful management of the Exchange's affairs by President Donaldson, Secretary Kinney and the Governing Board. No stock exchange in the country, and more particularly in the West, is conducted on a more thoroughly businesslike basis. The listing of "wildcat" stocks, which played a conspicuous part in the demoralization of the market four years ago, is now forbidden under the strict rules adopted, and the public has complete assurance that every property on the board is properly classified. There is probably as little uncertainty as there ever can be in a stock exchange.

Mr. Donaldson's part in bringing about this condition has not been inconsiderable, and it is to be regretted that he has seen fit to retire from the presidency.

AN UNPUNISHED CRIME.

ON JUNE 15, 1904—one year ago last Thursday—the excursion steamer General Slocum burned in New York harbor, causing the death of 1,031 people and the injury of 266 others. Nearly 700 New York families, most of them connected with the one church organization that gave the excursion, were bereaved. The nation was horror-stricken, and a demand for the quick and severe punishment of the responsible parties was voiced by the press, from the pulpit and by individuals everywhere. Investigations were begun and such a hubbub raised that the public expected to see swift and sure justice meted out.

What is the situation one year later? Seven men were indicted by the Federal grand jury for direct responsibility for these deaths through neglect of duty. Only one of these has ever been brought to trial, and though he has been tried three times the jury in each case has failed to agree. Now the Government is about to abandon all of its cases because its prosecutors declare their opinion that "the great expense involved does not warrant taking [illegible] of other trials."

[illegible] is the fact that not a single survivor of [illegible] has [illegible] damages [illegible] burned [illegible]. Every man [illegible] was [illegible] for this awful crime goes scot free, from the owners who [illegible] to provide [illegible] sworn Government inspectors who failed to inspect. The man who has three times been tried was one of these inspectors who passed on the safety appliances of the Slocum. It mattered nothing to him that some of the life-preservers [illegible] stained, [illegible] the coverings of others were so old and rotten that the cork was lost out of the holes, that the fire connections were inadequate and the fire hose so rotten that it burst as soon as water was turned into it. He cared not a whit whether the vessel was loaded beyond its limit of safety, or that absolutely no provision had been made to protect the lives of more than 1,200 passengers, nearly all of them children. He got his salary just the same, and very likely a piece of "hush money" from the steamboat company, so he reported the Slocum safe. And yet three different juries have been unable to see wherein this man was criminally responsible.

Is it to be wondered at that disrespect for the law and the courts is yearly becoming more manifest in this country? It is doubtful if there was ever a more sickening miscarriage of justice anywhere than the year's proceedings in this case have brought forth. "One thousand and thirty-one people killed and 266 others injured through the diabolical greed and neglect of a few ship owners and Government inspectors, and yet not one person is punished in the slightest degree nor has a cent of damages been paid."

The Iroquois theater holocaust, coming six months earlier, conveyed no lesson for guidance in this affair, and it is evident that the teachings of the Slocum disaster have been lost on the public. Nothing so cheap as human life. Another theater may be burned tomorrow or another steamboat may be given to the flames through somebody's neglect, and hundreds or thousands of victims may perish. But the public will soon forget, for it has a habit of forgetting about such things, and the criminal owners will go ahead in the same old way, saving money and risking human lives.

The Czar told the members of the Zemstvo deputation who waited on him yesterday that "my personal wish and my will as emperor to summon a national assembly is unbroken." The chances are though that it will be broken after the Grande Dukes have whispered a few words in his ear.

One death and several prostrations from heat were reported in Pittsburg yesterday. Why, oh why, will people live in such hot places when Colorado is big enough to accommodate all comers?

This is the season when the sweet girl graduate washing dishes in her mother's kitchen allows her thoughts to wander back a few weeks and sighs tenderly for the days that are no more.

PROPER OBSERVANCE OF HOLIDAYS.

Two demands are just now beginning to make themselves felt. One for a more sane celebration of the Fourth of July and the other for a more reverential observance of Memorial Day. These two holidays radically differ in origin and spirit, are now celebrated in much the same fashion, which in the case of Memorial Day is unbecoming and little short of sacrilegious.—Salida Mail.

CORRECTING THE OBIT

The Bonapartes

How It Came That the Man Who Will Succeed Paul Morton Is a Thorough-Going American.

NOT His Royal Highness the [illegible] Charles Joseph of the [illegible] house of Bonaparte, but "Southhouse Charlie" [illegible] by which his neighbors know the grandnephew of the great Napoleon and the coming secretary of war.

Charles J. Bonaparte is an American through and through, but he is also a Roman Catholic, and [illegible] and other reasons he does not approve of the American public school system. He says [illegible] free [illegible] are [illegible]. A few years ago it was his [illegible] desire to represent Maryland in the United States senate, but another [illegible] stood in his way. He would not go out of his way to seek office. The office must seek him or he would never [illegible] of it. Without the asking he could have been a congressman or [illegible] governor. But the senatorial toga was a prize that must be fought for. It is perhaps [illegible] from his earlier ambition that he consented to enter President Roosevelt's cabinet.

Mr. Bonaparte's [illegible] is a graceful [illegible] of the [illegible] of his [illegible]. His grandmother was Elizabeth Patterson, [illegible] at the age of 18 she was the reigning belle of that city, famous for its beautiful women. Napoleon's brother Jerome, afterward king of Westphalia, was then visiting this country and was the social lion of the hour. They saw each other for the first time [illegible]. When she learned at the eleventh hour that [illegible] Jerome was to be there she hastily ordered horses and, accompanied by her younger brother, galloped to the course. When the prince saw the girls at the tracks he was greatly struck by her beauty and asked her name. A few days later he was introduced to her and fell madly in love with her. He determined instantly to make her his wife, and they were soon betrothed.

Prince Jerome's Marriage

When the French consul at Washington heard what Jerome had done he was beside himself with rage and terror. What would Napoleon say? He [illegible] at the thought and alternately tore his hair and said naughty words in choice Parisian. He drove to Baltimore and implored the young man in vain to break off the match. But the marriage took place, and the consul, making a virtue of necessity, graced the occasion with his presence. When Napoleon heard of the nuptials he was furious. He immediately forbade the consul to advance Jerome any funds and warned every French ship captain not to take on board "Citizen Bonaparte and the young person to whom he had attached himself." Three years later the couple sailed to Lisbon in one of Mrs. Bonaparte's father's ships, but the woman was not allowed to land. An ambassador from Napoleon waited upon her and asked what he could do for "Miss Patterson." She looked him haughtily in the face and replied:

"Tell your master that Mme. Bonaparte is ambitious and demands her rights as a member of the imperial family."

Jerome hastened to Paris, hoping to win over Napoleon. For a time the emperor refused to see him. When at length he was admitted to his brother's presence he pleaded with tears in his eyes on behalf of the little girl, but Napoleon was adamant. The erring one must give up his bride or suffer Napoleonic ostracism. Jerome was in despair, but at first was true to his beautiful wife.

Wife Returns to America

[illegible] every port [illegible] of Europe and [illegible] Mme. [illegible] The people [illegible] was Napoleon's [illegible] and sack the [illegible] Napoleon [illegible]. After a stay of seven months [illegible] Mme. Bonaparte [illegible] named Jerome Napoleon Bonaparte [illegible] sailed for the United States, where she was received [illegible] surrounded by a [illegible].

As for the [illegible] Jerome [illegible] repeated [illegible] Napoleon's frown [illegible] months [illegible] the [illegible]. A few [illegible] after he was married with great [illegible] to the Princess Catherine of Wurtemberg. Before [illegible] Pius VII, that he firmly refused Napoleon's demand for a divorce from his brother and [illegible] that [illegible] Napoleon [illegible] to Versailles [illegible] marriage was annulled [illegible] the French [illegible] of state [illegible] of the Catholic church, of which Napoleon always proudly declared himself the oldest son, the descendants of Jerome Bonaparte and Betsy Patterson are the only legitimate heirs to the imperial throne of France, and Charles Joseph Bonaparte, the coming American secretary of the navy, is the present head of the house of Napoleon.

Declined Title

After Mme. [illegible] to Baltimore Jerome offered [illegible] a title [illegible] income of $[illegible], but she declined it, saying that "Westphalia was a very [illegible] country, but it was [illegible] to hold two queens." But when Napoleon offered her an annual income of $1,000 provided she did not assume the name of Bonaparte she accepted it, saying:

"I would rather be sheltered under the wing of an eagle than suspended from the bill of a goose."

Indeed she had the greatest admiration for Napoleon and always said he was the greatest genius that ever lived, defending him against the British, whom she loathed. She held Jerome in the utmost contempt, and his treatment of her changed her into a cold, cynical woman of the world. During her social career in Europe she was the belle of every capital. Barring the emperor, the entire Bonaparte family recognized the regularity of her marriage to Jerome, and she was frequently the guest of Napoleon's mother in Rome.

Jerome Napoleon, the son, was educated in Europe and while there met his father by appointment, by whom he was most affectionately received. He was later admitted to Harvard college, where he distinguished himself in his studies. When he was 23, and against his mother's wish, he married Miss Susan May Williams, a member of an old Massachusetts family which moved to Baltimore before the Revolutionary war. They had two children, Colonel Jerome Napoleon Bonaparte and Charles Joseph Bonaparte, who married Miss Day of Boston.

Baltimore has no more public-spirited citizen than Charles J. Bonaparte, and many a poor, deserving man has experienced his charity. He has been known to let poor widows live in his houses rent free, to help bright young men through college and to set others up in business. He will go to Washington with the best wishes of his neighbors.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

MEXICO'S HOLY CITY.

In America's oldest republic you need take but few steps to be amid [illegible] ages. So it is in the Holy City of the New World, although but few [illegible] the traveler know that another besides Jerusalem existed. To the Mexican and mestizo [illegible] is the holiest of cities. Its people recognize the passing of time by the saints' days [illegible] more fetes and fasts than ever did the inhabitants of any European city under papal rule, and a strange commingling of the Aztec and Catholic are some of these rites. How the religions of old Mexico [illegible] Spanish conquest have [illegible] and customs [illegible] their weirdness. In the [illegible] Monte has the [illegible] Zealots [illegible] was that [illegible] beside the church [illegible] sacred [illegible] with which their ancestors [illegible] the Aztec [illegible].

But the [illegible] of today [illegible] Amecameca, the [illegible] interoceanic [illegible] along which the traveler journeys from Vera Cruz into the heart of the republic passes through [illegible]. But when the visitor alights from the train he is set back four centuries, for looming up before him is the venerable Dominican church built about 1500. Its appearance verifies its age, although the earthquakes which have now and then lifted up the country and put it down [illegible] have played sad havoc with the walls and what were once beautiful decorations. But suppose the sunlight does gleam through its cracks and crevices and the statue of good St. Sebastian over the portal has crumbled away from head to waist. What of that? "Perhaps Our Senor of Amecameca will some day restore it. We can wait." Such is the priest's reply. Then you remember that this is the land of manana.—Pilgrim.

REMINDED OF HOME.

[illegible] Kansas [illegible] the story [illegible] Kansas man who crossed [illegible] the sea [illegible] morning [illegible] Nobody was [illegible] he yelled back when [illegible] the [illegible] Kansan, "I'm up here to see how one of your mountain-high waves and terrific gales compare with what we have in Kansas in the way of cyclones. This ain't a patch to what I've seen out our way."

Before the captain could offer further objections a big green wave came curling over the place where the passenger stood, and the next thing he knew he was swept off his feet and carried aft over ropes and boats and all the paraphernalia of a ship's deck and landed in a heap in one corner, where he was saved from being washed overboard. When they got him out he had a broken leg, a twisted shoulder, a sprained wrist, his face looked as if it had been dragged backward through a briar patch, and he was unconscious. They carried him to the captain's room, and after much effort restored him to consciousness. He gazed a minute in bewilderment and his eyes fell on the captain.

"By gravy, cap'," he said feebly, "that reminded me of home, only it was a deen sight wetter."—Kansas City Journal.

Three Physicians treated him without success

W. L. Yancy, Paducah, Ky., writes: "I had a severe case of kidney disease and three of the best physicians in Kentucky treated me without success. I then took Foley's Kidney Cure. The first bottle gave immediate relief and three bottles cured me permanently. I gladly recommend this wonderful remedy." Sold by The Hefley-Arcularius Drug Co.

MONEY IN RAG.

It was after a rain a few days ago. Half a dozen persons—old, young and of both sexes—were waiting at the corner of Broadway and Spring street with transfers in their hands for their cars to come along. Hundreds were passing by every two or three minutes. Many of these looked at a soiled handkerchief or rag lying a few feet from the curb just west of Broadway. All of the six saw it.

Soon a poorly dressed old woman got off a Broadway car, took a transfer from the company's agent, and joined the others at the corner. She saw the rag, too. With a glance at the others she took a step or two towards it and then hesitated. Smiles were on the faces of those who watched her. Then, overpowering her [illegible], she deliberately walked to the dirty rag, picked it up and shook it out. One corner of it was knotted up. The handkerchief—for it was such—was small, evidently a woman's or girl's, and was wet with rain and sticky with mud. The old woman untied the knot and displayed to the gaze of the grinning crowd a dollar bill, a silver quarter, some dimes, nickels and pennies.

The smiles disappeared from the other faces, but the old woman laughed outright. She had been well paid for soiling her hands.—New York Commercial.

Verse of a Day

By Henry Christian W[illegible]

W[illegible]GS IN THE NIGHT.

Oft when the wind is moaning in the trees,
The plaza trees, whose pallid branches toss
Like white arms in the crescent moon's faint glow
I try to heed the voices of the wind,
To heed but them and not the [illegible]
Of voices loved I shall not hear again
Dear voices of the past whose [illegible]
By day and night deep in the [illegible] lone vault

I gaze into God's wonder world of stars
And try to see the liquid luster there
Aye try to see the glory of each star
That sends some kindly ray to earth [illegible] me
And yet alas in these I only see
Sweet faces of the days so long that fled—
Dear faces that go on in life or death,
But that shall never come to me again

Oh, voices, calling from the far, fond past,
Oh, faces as eternal as the stars;
Oh, days, whose sacred memory is mine
As surely as my own [illegible] love—
How can I make you know I do not change
How can my spirit give my [illegible] wings
To reach that fast receding, golden [illegible]
Where lies the youth that cannot come again?

TO AN OLD PAIR OF SHOES

Old friends, we part—
We've walked away together
Through thick and thin,
Through fair and stormy weather;
Now comes the time
When we apart must sunder,
I journey on
While you become old plunder.

Your lot is hard—
You meld in dust and ashes
In rubbish heap
You lie there so much trash;
But then you rest
While I the same worn way,
With weary feet
Must tread for many a day.

REPENTANCE.

For the word that's a thorn in the heart
Oh Sweetheart what can I say?
Here are my prayers and here my tears
And you will not say them nay

Sad are the mists that dim your dear eyes
From the wound that I gave, I know
Here are my prayers and here my tears—
Murmuring that I love you so

GAS TANK EXPLODES AND IS EMBEDDED IN CEILING

William Fred and Rudolph Schueler sons of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Schueler 412 Manitou avenue Manitou had a remarkable escape from death Saturday afternoon in the blowing up of the gas tank at their father's bottling works at the Ute Chief Iron Springs.

The boys with their father had been examining the tank which they found leaking. The father stepped outside the building and hardly had the three sons stepped ten paces away from the tank when it exploded under pressure of 200 pounds. So great was the force that the tank was hurled upwards and was embedded in the ceiling.

The roar of the explosion so frightened Mr. Schueler that he was unable to open the door leading into the room where he left his sons, and Mrs. Schuler nearly fell in hysterics crying "All my boys are dead."

Investigation showed that nobody was hurt. Mr. Schueler says he will leave the tank where it is as a sort of "souvenir."

STATE REALTY CONVENTION TO MARK NEW ERA IN COLORADO'S PROSPERITY

Governor McDonald Arrives This Afternoon With Northern Delegations and Will Be Guest of Honor at Reception Tonight at Antlers—Today's Program.

Durango 1906

That will be the first word of the Colorado State Realty association's fourth annual convention which opens here today.

If there be any virtue in the popular conception of the early bird and the 1906 convention may be allowed to typify the proverbial worm then Durango should land the prize. Its 30 delegates will arrive at 4:30 o'clock this morning with a lusty Durango shout upon their lips and the next convention is not liable to be out in search of a future happy home any earlier than that. Heading the delegation from the live candidate of the south will be [illegible] E. McConnell mayor and W. R. Armstrong secretary of the board of trade. They have organized a solid south to boost Durango and will probably break the divided strength of the north by pledging Durango's strength for one of the prospective candidates for the convention of 190[illegible]. Their headquarters will be established at daybreak in the offices of Henry LeB. Wills.

Delegates Arrive

Denver's aggregation of boosters will arrive at 1 o'clock. Greeley will have 20 and Fort Collins will have 15 delegates aboard the Denver special. Each of the latter delegations will have done their utmost to pledge Denver's support to their respective towns before they have arrived in this city. After they are here Durango will have a word to whisper in Denver's ear.

When the Denver people leave the headquarters of the state association they will march to the depot headed by Cook's drum corps which will accompany them to this city remaining until 9 o'clock tonight. In the evening prior to their departure the members of the drum corps will give a concert in front of the Antlers.

F. J. Chamberlin president of the state association arrived from Denver last evening at 7 o'clock. "We are going to have the best and biggest convention in our history" he said.

Governor Coming

Governor Jesse F. McDonald will accompany the Denver delegation. He will be met at the depot by the private carriage of Henry LeB. Wills. Mr. and Mrs. Wills last evening entertained Secretary and Mrs. John T. Burns at dinner.

Rooms 254 and 256 at the Antlers headquarters of the association established by Secretary Burns Sunday evening were the scene of great activity yesterday. Committeemen were busy arranging the final details for the convention and Mrs. Burns was active in preparing badges for delegates and officers. Telegrams came pouring in from over the state announcing unexpected delegates. [illegible] Wirt Markham wired that he would bring four delegates with him from Lamar and F. G. S[illegible]phen stated that he would arrive tomorrow from Longmont and that he would be followed Wednesday by C. A. Bradley.

Luncheon for Visitors

Today will chiefly be given over to pleasure. At 1:30 o'clock at the Antlers the delegates and members will be tendered a luncheon by the members of the Colorado Springs Real Estate exchange. This agreeable function will be followed with the convention's first session which will be held at 3 o'clock and for which the program is as follows:

3:00—Address of Welcome Hon. Henry C. Hall Mayor of Colorado Springs. Address—Hon. Jesse F. McDonald, Governor of Colorado. Temporary organization.

3:30—Annual Address of the President. Report of the Secretary. Report of the Treasurer. Appointment of Committees.

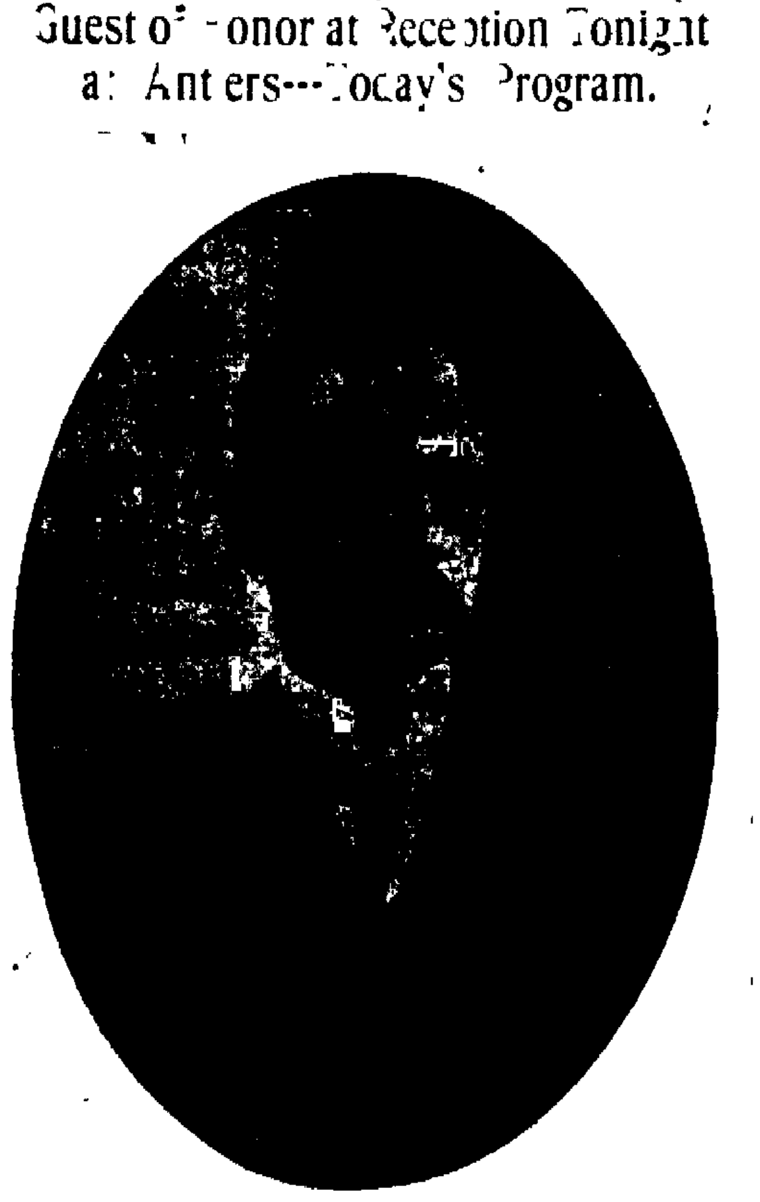
4:25—Address Colorado Mines and Colorado Prosperity Victor C. Alderson President State School of Mines Golden.

5:00—Address From the Investor's Viewpoint Gordon Jones Vice-Pres. U. S. National Bank, Denver.

5:20—Report of Committee on Rules and Order of Business. Adjournment.

This evening at the Antlers the members of the local exchange receive in honor of Governor McDonald and the delegates.

Wednesday morning will be occupied by the forestry and irrigation section. In the afternoon the legislative section will hold sway and in the evening a smoker will be enjoyed.



GOVERNOR JESSE F. M'DONALD

TWIN SISTER'S PRESENTIMENT OF HER BROTHER'S MARRIAGE

On the 15th anniversary of the bride's birthday and after promising their parents on that day that they would not be married for another year Jesse Stringham and Miss Dosia Baker both of Manitou quietly came to this city Sunday afternoon and were wedded by the Rev. C. H. Wilcox pastor of the First Methodist church.

Following the ceremony the bride and groom returned to Manitou, told their parents what they had done and sought forgiveness which was given as is evidenced by the fact that Mr. and Mrs. Stringham enjoyed an afternoon tea at the home of Mrs. Louise Baker 157 Ute avenue mother of the bride.

The wedding is the outcome of a romance begun when the bride and groom were little tots at school. They shared each other's joys and sorrows and their love of later years was well known to their friends.

A curious feature of the wedding is that Miss Grace Stringham twin sister of the bridegroom had a presentiment of the wedding for on Sunday morning she remarked that she felt the wedding was about to take place. Later her belief was strengthened by the fact that she noticed her brother getting ready his best attire.

Mr. Stringham is the son of Fred L. Stringham one of the oldest D. & R. G. engineers in point of service residing at 117 Osage avenue.

LAWYERS OF STATE TO MEET HERE JULY 6-7

Lawyers from all parts of Colorado will be in Colorado Springs July 6 and 7 to attend the eighth annual meeting of the Colorado Bar association at the Antlers hotel. George R. Peck of Chicago, one of the greatest of American attorneys and orators will make the principal address. He will speak upon the timely theme of Government Regulation of Railroad Rates. Other speakers will be Luther M. Goddard Denver, John A. Ewing Leadville, James W. McGeers Greeley, James H. Pershing Denver.

NOT TO INCREASE ITS DIVIDENDS

PRESIDENT HOWBERT DENIES FALSE REPORTS—MAY DECLARE EXTRA DIVIDENDS

The announcement made from Cripple Creek without authority that the Portland Gold Mining company would in the future pay a regular quarterly dividend of 10 cents per share instead of six cents per share as has formerly been the custom has been officially denied. The reason given for the alleged increase was that the treasury of the company was large and that it would no longer be the policy to hoard large savings.

Irving Howbert president of the Portland company states that the company will not increase the regular dividends but that it will in the future declare extra dividends whenever the condition of the treasury seems to warrant. The regular quarterly rate of six cents per share will be continued and such additional dividends will from time to time be declared as they are justified. Mr. Howbert is of the opinion that these extra dividends will not exceed four cents a share per quarter.

GRANITE WILL PAY $12,500 MONTHLY DIVIDEND JULY 15

It is officially announced that the Granite Gold Mining company will enter the list of Cripple Creek dividend payers in July. The dividend will be declared on July 1 and paid on July 15 at the rate of one cent per share or $12,500 per month.

This announcement does not come as a surprise to mining men, as it has been known that the Granite has been producing heavily for some time. Recently this company has added to its holdings by the purchase of the Monument mine which adjoins its own property on Battle mountain. The Monument has long been a heavy producer and paid $50,000 in dividends last year.

Even more important than this purchase is the opening of an entirely new ore body in the Granite claim at a depth of 1,200 feet which is 200 feet below any of its previous workings. This new shoot has been opened for a length of over two hundred feet and is important not only to the Granite but to the district at large as it is another proof of the continuity of Cripple Creek ore bodies with depth.

It is expected that the ore bodies from which the principal part of the Granite production has been coming during the past year will be encountered in this lower level within the next six weeks. The lower levels of the Granite are now being worked through the Gold Coin shaft and arrangements are under way to open the property down to the depth of 1,500 feet, which can be done without additional sinking.

The Granite company has accumulated a large treasury reserve and this with the excellent physical condition of its property seems to insure a continuance of dividends at the above rate for a long time to come.

All but a small portion of the stock of the Granite company is owned by C. L. Tutt Spencer Penrose, C. M. MacNeill and C. C. Hamlin and its history since it came into their hands is another proof of the greatness of Cripple Creek and shows what can be expected in any well located property from persistent development.

WALTERS-WARING LEASE PROFITABLE

Special to the Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, June 19.—The Walters and Waring lease on the Battle Mountain Ajax is growing to be a big proposition, and while the shaft is but 60 feet deep, the ore already taken out has more than paid sinking expenses, besides leaving a small treasury reserve. The lessees are pushing development work along as fast as possible with conditions looking better every day. The lessees are breaking about two feet of ore that will average around four ounces to the ton in gold. In this streak of ore they have a [illegible] of high grade rock that would give [illegible] returns were they to [illegible]

The McDonald [illegible] on this same property is also proving to be a big thing. In fact, all the lessees operating on the territory of the Ajax company are doing well.

MIDWAY IS BEING WORKED SYSTEMATICALLY

Special to the Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, June 19.—Operations on the Midway property, located on Ironclad hill, are being pushed forward rapidly since the new plant of machinery was installed. It is the intention of the operators to continue sinking for possibly 200 feet, and it is believed that with the additional depth the ore opened in the [illegible] will prove to be a big proposition.

This property is well located but unfortunately no great amount of systematic development work has been performed. Some good ore was recently found on this property near the surface and the operators are certain that they will encounter the extension of the ore shoot with additional depth, which will give them a large amount of stoping ground.

TO RESUME WORK IN KANSAS OIL FIELDS

INDEPENDENCE, Kas., June 19.—General Manager O'Neil of the Prairie Oil and Gas company today made the announcement that the Standard Oil company will resume work in the Kansas oil field and will relay the pipe line to the heavy oil district and pay 25 cents a barrel for all oil grading between 22 and 29 degrees in quality. This is the most important announcement made in the oil fields since the Standard practically stopped buying in Kansas, following the stringent laws passed by the last legislature.

LEASING ON EAST SLOPE OF TENDERFOOT

Special to the Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, June 19.—The Western Investment company, a recent incorporation composed of well-known Cripple Creek operators, has obtained a lease on the [illegible] and Cripple Creek company's properties on the east slope of Tenderfoot hill. This company has been very successful in leasing in the district and the fact that it has gone that way indicates that that country contains prospects that are well worth looking into.

The operators have [illegible] a small plant of machinery and expect to thoroughly and systematically work the ground under lease.

A TRAIN A MILE LONG.

A party of London & Northwestern railway officials went over the New York Central lines from Boston to Buffalo. They expressed surprise at the great length of the trains, and one of the New York Central men remarked that a train of 110 cars was the longest he had seen on the line lately. Soon afterwards a train of empty cars came along, and on counting the cars it was found there were 114 cars on the train. These cars average forty feet in length over all, the train being nearly one mile long, with an average weight of seventeen and [illegible] tons per car. The average train of loaded cars consists of eighty cars, with an average weight of about 3,500 tons.—London Chronicle.

NEW YORK MARKET SHOWED A WELCOMED IMPROVEMENT

NEW YORK, June 19.—The price movement on the stock exchange today followed the rule prevalent of reversing the direction of the day before. Saturday's movement was downwards and today the slow and dragging movement was upwards. The volume of dealings rose slightly over those for either Thursday or Friday of last week. There was no evidence of real life in the market and the professional contingent did not venture to indulge a hope that a progressive expansion in activity was in progress.

The tone of the market, however, was called good and the fact that the occasional tentative operations on the part of traders are on the buying side helps to confirm confidence in the stability of values.

[illegible] operations today did not [illegible] beyond a [illegible] of favorite speculative stocks. A number of these were under the [illegible] of the reiterated predictions of a coming increase in the dividend distribution on Reading.

That stock [illegible] was one of the more active [illegible] and the movement in Pennsylvania was distinctly in sympathy. [illegible] came in for its share in the movement and the strength of United States Steel preferred was of sympathetic [illegible] to the whole list. The expectation of an early report from the state superintendent of insurance on the Equitable Life investigation was made the basis for some professed hopes of an early clearing up of the speculative situation. But it was announced during the day that this anxiously awaited report might not be published for several days.

The hitch which was threatened last week in the peace negotiations was reported to be cleared up today and relations seemed to be improved between Germany and France. The market was thus relieved from depressing effects of those accounts. Incoming reports of gross earnings of railroads for the second week in June showed the level well maintained above last year in accordance with the recent tendency. Railroad traffic officials also spoke in an encouraging vein of the traffic offering and of the promise for the future, based on the good crop prospects.

The wavering movement operating in the grain market from hour to hour made it difficult to make predictions on the crop situation but weather conditions were reported promising. The large increase in loans shown by the Saturday bank statements came in for discussion and the explanation was offered that it represented the re-placing of the proceeds of the Japanese loan subscription which was shifted and re-deposited a week before.

The money market continued entirely unruffled, although preparations are making for the coming half-yearly settlements. A transfer by telegraph from San Francisco through the subtreasury of $[illegible] was an incident of the day. The closing was made somewhat irregular by slight profit-taking in railroad stocks. Bonds were irregular. Total sales, par value, $2,050,000.

United States bonds were all unchanged on call.

FAVORABLE HARVEST REPORTS CAUSED PRICES TO SLUMP

CHICAGO, June 19.—Favorable results in harvest operations caused weakness in the wheat market today. At the close July wheat was off 1¼c. Corn was down [illegible], oats ¼c and provisions 2½ to 12½c.

The wheat market was weak from the start, initial quotations on July being [illegible] to [illegible] lower at 85¾ to 86. An advance of ⅛ to ¼ at Liverpool was apparently eclipsing all other factors.

Lack of definite reports of damage encouraged considerable selling by pit traders and resulted in July receding to 85c. The decline induced moderate covering by shorts. As a result the market experienced a temporary rally, July advancing [illegible].

Sentiment, however, soon became more bearish than before, and prices started on another downward movement. The cause of the renewed weakness was the unanimity of advices from the harvest fields regarding unexpectedly large yields. [illegible] report claimed that the total crop for western Kansas would be 1,000,000 bushels in excess of the yield a year ago. Another depressing influence was a decline in wheat prices at Minneapolis. At [illegible] [illegible] reached the lowest point of the day. The market closed weak with July at [illegible]. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to [illegible] bushels. The amount on passage decreased 423,000 bushels and the visible supply decreased 1,424,000 bushels. Primary receipts were 258,000 bushels compared with 402,000 bushels a year ago.

Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 290 cars against 312 last week and 361 a year ago.

Corn was weak on estimates of over [illegible] cars for tomorrow and closed almost at the lowest point. July opened [illegible] higher to [illegible] lower at 53¾@53⅝, sold off to 53, and closed at 53⅛c. Local receipts were 529 cars with 144 of contract grade.

The oats market was weak. July opened ¼c higher to ⅛c lower at 31 to 31¼c, sold off to 30½c and closed at 31. Local receipts were 122 cars.

Provisions were weak on selling by small holders. Liberal receipts of hogs were largely responsible for the profit taking. September pork closed off 12½c at $12.77½. Lard was down 7½c at $7.45. Ribs were 2½c lower at $7.85@7.87. Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat 4 cars, corn, 713 cars, oats, 146 cars, hogs, 31,000 head.

TWO ARE DEAD FROM EXPLOSION ON NEW SUBWAY

NEW YORK, June 19.—Two deaths already have resulted from the shower of shattered steel and the clouds of steam which followed the boiler explosion near the banks of the Hudson river, on the upper West side yesterday. The victims are Joseph Morgan, colored, a fireman, whose death resulted from scalds, and Frank Marone, 15 years old.

Marone, with three companions, was swimming in the Hudson when the shower of debris fell over the water. He was not seen again and the police say it is certain he was struck by a flying missile and instantly killed or made helpless and drowned. Four other persons who were injured are in a hospital in a serious condition. Twenty others, who were treated by physicians, are at their homes and two men are under arrest and will be held pending an investigation of the explosion. One of the men held is Daniel Barry, assistant engineer at the Subway Construction company's power-house where the explosion occurred.

He is one of the seriously injured. The other is John L. Keauty, who says he is only a record clerk for the company and says he had nothing to do with the operation of the plant.

The explosion was that of a boiler in the air compressing plant for subway construction at One Hundred and Sixty-third street and North river today. By the wrecking of the plant the work of completing the boring of the tunnel through the solid rock from One Hundred and Forty-eighth street to Fort George may be delayed.

The roof of the power house was torn into pieces which flew in a shower over the house of the West End Yacht club. The dome of the big boiler was driven high in the air and landed 200 feet away. On the verandas of the club house were more than a hundred persons when the crash came. The club members carried the injured into the club house.

AN ISLAND'S BIRTH.

How Japan's Expansion Was Assisted by the Mighty Forces of Nature.

Volcanic forces have added a new island to the domain of Japan. It is 450 feet in height and nearly three miles in circumference, and its appearance was witnessed with great amazement by the inhabitants of a neighboring island. Its advent, says the New York Sun, was announced two months ago without the interesting details that have just come to hand.

Five hundred and fifty miles a little east of south of Tokio a number of small islands rising above the Pacific are known as the Volcano islands, for [illegible] were evidently formed by the outpourings of [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] The islands [illegible] along a line of weakness in the earth's crust extending hundreds of miles from the Fuji to the Bonin islands. This line is dotted here and there with volcanoes. The Volcano and the neighboring Bonin islands have an area of only about 40 square miles, but the fires that lifted Iceland and the Azores above the sea pale in comparison with those that elevated the scores of volcanic rocks that are strewn through this part of the Pacific.

Up to November 14 last there were four islands in the Volcano group, but now there are five. The inhabitants of Sulphur island say that on that day they heard the most awesome rumblings and groanings and saw a great deal of smoke about 20 miles distant. The clouds, which they called black and white smoke and which were doubtless clouds of black ash and steam, continued for about two weeks and then they cleared away and the natives saw what appeared to be three little islands. While the smoke lasted the sea appeared to be on fire. Vulcan was evidently having a fight with the ocean.

On December 12, when everything had quieted down, the natives decided that what had appeared to them to be three islands was one island about half as large as their own. They did not muster courage, however, to approach their new neighbor for about six weeks, for they could see that the still unconsolidated material of which the island was formed was changing its shape a little from day to day and they were afraid that a new outburst might catch them if they ventured near. At last, on February 1, ten men ventured out in a boat and a canoe on an exploring expedition, and the next day they landed on the island.

On the south side a towering precipitous coast had been formed by the fast consolidating rock, but on the north side was a gentle slope where they had no difficulty in mooring their boats and clambering up on the land. Here they found a boiling lake from which steam ascended. All the rest was volcanic dust that yielded under their feet. They planted a pole which they had brought in their boat, raised the Japanese flag and named the island Nii Shima. Japan was the first of the powers on the ground, and probably not even Russia would dispute her right to the new possession.

So the new islands formed by volcanic agencies are coming now just as in the older days. Some of them soon leave us to mourn their loss, because the sea storms wash them away before they have time to get a firm footing above the waters. Three years ago Falcon island, which had maintained a precarious existence above the waters of the mid-Pacific until little trees had rooted in its soil, gave up the struggle and was seen no more. Two years ago two little islands rose in a night about ten feet above the water of Walfish bay on the coast of Africa, but they lasted only a few days. It is the survival of the fittest. [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] addition to its large family of islands stands at the outset so high above the sea that it has a fair chance of becoming a permanent part of the empire.

A Solemn Duty.

A solemn duty which we owe society, our children and ourselves is that nothing which can be done to assist nature at that time when our wives are to become mothers should be left undone. Of all the countless details to be observed at such a time, no single one is of more importance than the bodily welfare of the expectant mother; she must not experience undue suffering through any lack of effort on our part.

MOTHER'S FRIEND

should be the recourse of all real men and women at such times; it is easily [illegible] and [illegible] [illegible] to procure it. Its offices are [illegible] completely associated in this greatest [illegible] [illegible] external application, a result is obtained which at the appointed time permits the mother to undergo her greatest joy with fortitude, and bring into the world a child worthy of its parents. $1.00, all druggists. COLORADO CITY

TELEPHONED BEST GIRL HE WAS GOING TO DIE

A bottle of red ink and a disposition to cause a friend some trouble caused Tom Holland to be classed as a would-be suicide for a time Saturday night. He went into the rear of Comer's saloon and drank half a bottle of red ink then telephoned his sweetheart that he was going to die. A bystander hearing the message summoned Dr. J. F. Willard, city physician, who gave him a powerful emetic and he confessed he had no intention of shuffling off this mortal coil.

HOMELESS AND PERHAPS DYING

E. J. Parks, a homeless and sick man, is lying in the city jail nigh unto death. He applied for admission Sunday afternoon and the police provided him with a comfortable bed. City Physician J. F. Willard was summoned. He found the patient suffering from intestinal troubles and at once set about to do everything possible to alleviate his pain. At a late hour last night the man was still in a dangerous condition.

LIVE WIRES DREW A CIRCUS CROWD

Four wires twisting and writhing like serpents, drew a crowd of two hundred people Sunday evening to the corner of Fourth and Colorado avenue. The electric storm of an hour before broke two of the electric light wires and let them fall into the alley.

They writhed and spluttered like living things, and set fire to the telephone poles. One of them got on the roof of Lushinskey's paint shop and set the building on fire. The fire department was called and promptly extinguished the blaze, but the crowd had an hour's exhibition of the power of electric force.

FOUR ARE ACQUITTED IN JUSTICE COURTS

Failure to convict marked the trials of four criminal cases in the two justice courts yesterday establishing a record unprecedented in the history of the justice courts. In the court of Justice Ruby there was a lack of evidence against Joseph Hale, charged with burglary, and against John and Joseph Hale charged with larceny, and both defendants were acquitted and released from further custody. The prosecuting witness in these cases was B. F. Weldon who alleged that the defendant broke into his home and appropriated harness and saddle. All of the parties are ranchmen near Calhan.

In the court of Justice Dunnington two acquittals were secured from two juries. In the case of Max Smith, charged by Duclo with stealing potted plants, the acquittal came from the jury with but a moment's delay. The testimony showed that there was considerable spite work behind the complaint. The parties to the case are expression who have been having trouble for some time.

The other case in this court, in which the jury also acquitted the defendant was that against Wm. Chukow, charged by W. N. Proctor with assault and battery. The case against Proctor will be tried today.

Feel Impending Doom.

The feeling of impending doom in the minds of many victims of Bright's disease and diabetes has been changed to thankfulness by the benefit derived from taking Foley's Kidney Cure. It will cure incipient Bright's disease and diabetes and even in the worst cases gives comfort and relief. Slight disorders are cured in a few days. "I had diabetes in its worst form," writes Marion Lee of Dunreath, Ind. "I tried eight physicians without relief. Only three bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure made me a well man." Sold by The Hefley-Arcularius Drug Co.

BOYS SENT TO STATE INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL

Ross Hull and Lawrence Zeigler were turned over by the juvenile court to the sheriff for transportation to the State Industrial school at Golden. The lads were caught robbing a vacant house of electrical fixtures, and upon investigation it was found that they had also been responsible for forging the names of parents to orders for money and supplies. Sheriff [illegible] and Deputy Sheriff Axward took the lads to [illegible] yesterday afternoon.

Two other boys who were implicated with Hull and Zeigler were talked to by Judge [illegible] and upon promise to do right in the future were given the desired opportunity with instructions to report regularly to Officer Reisener.

Frank [illegible], another young lad who thought so little of his word of honor that he has repeatedly violated his parole, was surrendered to the court yesterday by his mother. The lad will be taken to the State Industrial school today by Officer Reisener.
